Wives of Vice Presidents.

The visit of Mrs. Adial E. Stevensen to Washington calls to public notice the fact that five wives of men who have occupied the second place in the government are living: Mesdames Morton. Hobart, Roosevelt, Fairbanks and Stevenson. Mrs. Sherman is the sixth in the list of women who have occupied a prominent and peculiar place in the aocial and official life of the national capital. And in connection with Mrs. Stevenson's visit, public attention is called to the fact that these women constitute a circle of their own in the social world, a circle of influence the claims of which appear to be regarded with universal interest and approval. Each eccupied a place of unique surroundings and most remarkable interest. Each, of course, was overshadowed by the "first lady" of her time. Back, however, was honor ed much. And it is pleasant to remember that, in personal character, method of life and influence, all were worthy of the honors given.—Chicago Journal. Wives of Vice Presidents.

ticut Reserves Showed Fair

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Washington, Jan. 19.—The war department has just issued a report on the joint army and militia coast defense exercises held last summer, with the recommendations of both the regular army officers and the militia officers in charge of the manoeuvres. Lieut. Col. W. C. Rafferty, commanding the artillery district of New London, makes the report for Connecticut. He states that the Connecticut reserves showed fair proficiency, the officers and men were zealous, and the discipline was excellent. He suggests that the field officers could be much improved by making themselves thoroughly familiar with the work required of each of their companies and by directing and supervising the drill and instruction.

Colonel Rafferty recommends, for future encampments, that the exercises be continued during two weeks instead of one, as the probability of bad weather conditions will then be anticipated and discounted. Opportunity will also be given for a half day at athletics and for night drill. He also suggests that all companies be assigned to Fort H. G. Wright, as follows: Two companies to mortars, four companies to 10-inch guns, four com-(Special to The Bulletin.)

When The Stomach Stops

Working Properly, Because There | Wind in It, Use Stuart's Dyspepsi Tablets to Set It Going Again.

A Trial Package Free.

The doctors call it flatulency, but unprofessional folks know it is "wind on the stomach," and a most distressing state of things it is. It is a serious condition of this great motor organ. Always annoying and painful in the extreme, at times often leading to bad and fatal results. The stomach embarrassed and hampered with wind, cannot take care of its food properly and indigestion follows, and this has a train too appailing to enumerate. The entire system is implicated—made an active or passive factor in this trouble and life soon becomes a questionable boon.

of the Yapura river. Ecuador's claims extend to this river, but do not follow its entire course. There is no likelihood, it is said, of trouble between Ecuador and Colombia over the disputed territory. Since the separation of Ecuador from the mother country, Colombia, the rights of both republics have been guaranteed and the boundary lines distinctly marked by comprehensive treatles.

The territory in dispute is claimed by Ecuador to be part of the former domain of Colombia which was cadded by Colombia to Ecuador, and the latter country contends that her jurisdiction extends many miles inland. In fact about three-fourths of the area of Ecuador as outlined by that counstations.
